EQUIPMENT

THE State Normal School at Fitchburg, Massachusetts, stands for opportunity. But it stands furthermore for democracy; for individuality and self-control. It offers the opportunity for the furtherance of practical ideas and for the development of an attitude of appreciation. A student gains from the school in proportion as he gives to it. The aim is not to conciliate nor to force, but to bring its students to the place where their own determination carries them forward. It develops the attitude and ideal of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who said:—"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving."

The Fitchburg State Normal School was established twenty-three years ago. Its progress has been constant and rapid, as is clearly evident from its history. The school was opened in 1895 in a rented building, with but four teachers and forty-six pupils. Since then, the number of graduates has risen into the thousands, classified as follows: one thousand one hundred sixty-five from the Elementary department; three hundred from the Advanced department (now known as the Junior High School department); nineteen from the Kindergarten department, and eighty-one from the Practical Arts department for men. Twelve have received diplomas for the completion of two years of special work, and two hundred twenty-three have been given certificates for one year's work.

The school at present employs thirty-four teachers, has an enrollment of three hundred eighty-two students, and seven hundred thirty children, and is provided with an equipment worth more than half a million dollars. This equipment includes the main building, two dormitories, four practice schools, and a large greenhouse. Beautiful grounds, fifteen acres in extent, surround the school. A part of the grounds are given over to four tennis courts, an athletic field, and school gardens.

The main building consists of large, attractive recitation rooms, a small assembly room, a gymnasium, and a large general office where the children of the Junior High School study commercial subjects and put them to use in doing much of the clerical work of the school.

One other feature of the main building is its excellent library, with a competent librarian in constant charge. Fifteen thousand volumes are found here, besides many of the leading magazines and periodicals, together with thousands of reports and text books. Until this year, the library occupied two small rooms. It has now been conveniently and artistically arranged in what was formerly the large study hall. Here the students find it a pleasure to read and study.

The school has an art collection unequalled by that of any other similar institution of its size. Fine pictures and statuary adorn the various rooms and corridors. An artistic catalog of these works may be obtained upon application to the school.

The two dormitories, Palmer Hall and Miller Hall, accommodate one hundred forty-one students. In Miller Hall the rooms are arranged in suites. Palmer Hall has single and double rooms. Both dormitories are heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Matrons are in charge, and a night watchman is employed. These two buildings, as well as the Edgerly and Junior High schools, are connected with the main building by subways. For further particulars regarding the selection and securing of rooms, consult the section of this catalog under the heading "Expense".

The Edgerly and Day Street schools are buildings of twelve rooms each for grades one to six, and are used for practice schools.

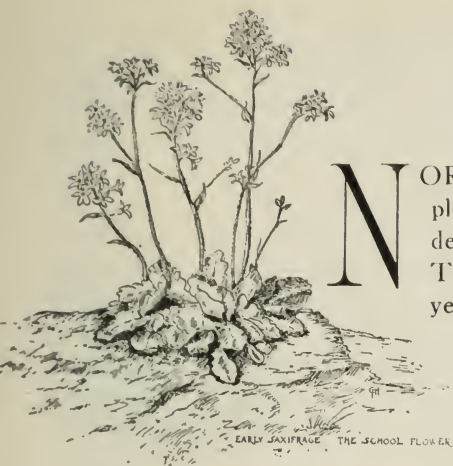

The Highland Avenue School is a practice school for grades one to three.

The Junior High School offers opportunity for students to practice teaching differentiated subjects in the seventh and eighth grades. The building contains twelve recitation rooms, various shops, and an assembly hall which has a seating capacity of seven hundred, a large stage and dressing rooms, and is equipped for moving pictures. Here the Normal School students and pupils from the Junior High School meet at daily assembly. Some of the shops in this building are now given over to men in the Practical Arts course, but it is expected that a new building will soon be provided for the men.

The Hastings Greenhouse, one of the best in the state, provides cut flowers and plants, also vegetables for the dormitories.

The school offers three regular courses; the Elementary course, the Junior High School course, and, the Practical Arts course, as outlined on the following pages.

COURSES

NORMAL students are granted diplomas in the following regular departments.

The Elementary Department of two years fits for teaching grades one to six. The Advanced Department for Junior high school teachers is four years in length, one year of which is spent in teaching on salary. This department prepares principals and teachers for Junior high schools. Opportunity is given also to prepare for teaching special subjects in Junior high schools, as outlined in detail on following pages.

The Practical Arts Department of three years is open only to men. It fits teachers for manual training and various forms of industrial work.

Normal school or college graduates and teachers with not less than three years of satisfactory experience may be admitted to the school with advanced standing. These may, with the approval of the principal, elect a sufficient number of courses from the regular curricula to constitute a year's work, for which a certificate, or, with the approval of the Board of Education, a diploma will be granted.

Concerts, recitals, plays, and lectures occur at frequent intervals. At the assemblies brief addresses are given by members of the faculty and by visitors to the school. Story telling, twenty-minute talks, and debates on current questions provide the students practice in public speaking.

Courses of Study — Aims and Means

FIRST YEAR

ELEMENTARY AND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENTS

To give a knowledge of courses of study used in the best schools of the country in the respective subjects; to make pupils familiar in detail, both as to what and why, with the courses prepared by the instructors in the Fitchburg Normal School and used under their supervision in the practice school; and to discover defects in the academic preparation and physical condition of students and to provide for their correction. The work is conducted by study, discussion, observation, and practice. Emphasis is placed upon children, schools, and courses of study. Practice teaching is with individuals and very small groups.

SECOND YEAR
ELEMENTARY DEPARTMENT

To give proper professional spirit, the necessary professional knowledge, and to increase general knowledge, culture, and breadth of vision. Emphasis is placed upon scholarship and personality. Practice teaching entire time for one-third of a year in full charge of a small school. One hundred thirty periods are given to the preparation of a thesis on some educational subject, guided and advised by some member of the faculty.

SECOND YEAR
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

To give a knowledge of Junior high school organization and management and to familiarize pupils with courses of study in the best Junior high schools and especially with all phases of the Junior High School connected with the Fitchburg Normal School; to teach the pedagogy, and as far as is necessary, the content of Junior high school subjects, correlated with a study of pupils of Junior high school age, to develop professional spirit. The work is conducted by study, discussion, observation, and practice. Practice teaching one-half year entire time in the Junior High School.

THIRD YEAR
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Teaching entire year on salary, supervised by the Normal School faculty.

FOURTH YEAR
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

A year of study for general knowledge, culture, and professional spirit to fit students for teachers in the Junior high schools. Two hundred forty periods are given to the preparation of a thesis involving some original research.

ADMISSION

THE candidate for admission to a Massachusetts state normal school as a regular student must have attained the age of seventeen years if a man, and sixteen years if a woman, on or before the first day of September in the year in which he seeks admission; must be free from diseases or infirmities, or other defects which would unfit him for the office of teacher; must present a certificate of good moral character; and must present evidence of graduation from a high school or equivalent preparation, and, in addition, offer such satisfactory evidence of scholarship as may be required by the regulations of the Board. He must submit detailed records of scholarship from the principal of the high school or other school in which preparation has been made, showing the amount of time given to individual subjects and the grades therein, and such additional evidence of qualifications for the calling of teacher as may be defined in the regulations of the Board relating to normal schools.

II A candidate for admission as a regular student to a general department must offer satisfactory evidence of preparation in the subjects listed under "A", "B", and "C", amounting to 15 units, 10 of which units however, must be in subjects under "A" and "B", and secured either by examination or certification. (Applicants for admission to the Practical Arts department may substitute evidence of practical experience in some industrial employment in whole or in part for the above.)

A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately one quarter of a full year's work.

(A) Prescribed subjects. Three units.

1. English literature and composition, 3 units.

(B) Elective subjects. At least 7 units from the following subjects:

2. Algebra, 1 unit.

For the present, the topics included within the foregoing subjects will be such as are usually accepted by the Massachusetts colleges for entrance. The outlines submitted by the College Entrance Examination Board (Sub-station 84, New York City) will be found suggestive by high schools.

(C) Additional Subjects. At least 5 units from any of the foregoing subjects, or from other subjects approved by the high school towards the diploma of graduation of the applicant. Work in any subjects approved for graduation, in addition to that for which credit is secured by examination or certification, may count towards these units.

III (A) Examinations. Each applicant for admission, unless exempted by the provisions of Sections IV and V, must pass entrance examinations in the subjects as required under "A" and "B". Examinations in these subjects will be held at each of the normal schools in June and September of each year. Candidates applying for admission by examination must present credentials or certificates from their schools to cover the requirements under "C", and will not be given examinations in these subjects. Persons not able to present these credentials must obtain credit for 15 units by examination in the subjects listed under "A" and "B".

(B) Division of Examinations. A candidate for admission to a normal school may take all of the examinations at once, or divide them between June and September. A candidate will receive permanent credit for any units secured by examination or certification.

IV Admission on Certificate. A graduate of a public high school, approved by the Board of Education, for purposes of certification to a state normal school, may be exempted by the principal of the normal school from examination in any of the subjects under "A" and "B", in which the principal of the high school shall certify that the applicant is entitled to certification in accordance with standards as defined by the Board of Education.

Credits secured by any candidate from the Board of Regents of the State of New York, or for admission to any college in the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, either by examination or certification, or in the examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board, shall be accepted towards the total of 10 units under "A" and "B". In addition to the units granted by certification candidates must present credentials for subjects under "C".

V Admission as Special Students. (A) When in any normal school, or in any department therein, the number of students entered as regular students and as advanced students at the opening of any school year is below the maximum number for which the school has accommodations, the Commissioner may authorize the admission as a special student of an applicant who, being otherwise qualified, and who, having taken the entrance examinations, has failed to meet the full requirements provided in the regulations of the Board, but who, nevertheless, is recommended by the principal of the normal school as, in his estimation, qualified to become a teacher. Such a special student shall be given regular standing only when he shall have satisfied all admission requirements, and when his work in the school, in the estimation of the principal, justifies such standing. The principal of the normal school shall report annually in October to the Commissioner as to all special students. Certificates may be granted to special students in accordance with regulations approved by the Board.

(B) When in any normal school, or in any course therein, the number of students entered as regular students, as advanced students, and as special students as defined in (A), at the opening of any school-year is below the maximum number for which the school has accommodations, the Commissioner may, subject to such special regulations as may be approved by the Board, authorize the admission to any class as a special student, on the recommendation of the principal, of a person possessing special or exceptional qualifications for the work of such class. Such special student shall not be considered a candidate for a diploma until he shall have qualified as a regular student, but may, on the satisfactory completion of the work of the department, be granted a certificate to that effect by the Board. The principal of the normal school shall report annually in October to the Commissioner as to all special students in the school under the provisions of this section.

VI Admission as Advanced Students. A graduate of a normal school or of a college, or any person with not less than three years' satisfactory experience in teaching, may be admitted as a regular or as an advanced student of any department under such regulations as may be approved by the Board.

The foregoing requirements for admission to Massachusetts normal schools are based upon the two following principals:

1. The only subject necessarily presupposed as a basis for normal school work is English. This is required of all candidates for admission. The entrance examination in English is in two parts,—one part dealing with English expression, and the other dealing with English literature.

2. In order to permit the variation in program in different high schools, and the variation of curricula of different pupils in the same school, and also to allow for the development of new subjects, a "free margin" of substantially one-half of the entire high school program is allowed.

EXPENSES

TUITION

Tuition is free to all residents of Massachusetts. Non-residents of the State are required to pay, at the beginning of each half-year session, the sum of twenty-five dollars.

ROOM AND BOARD

Room and board are eighteen dollars per month, this amount to be paid monthly, in advance. To secure room, either in Miller Hall or Palmer Hall, an early application is necessary. Rooms are reserved in order of application upon deposit of four dollars and a half with the clerk of the school. No room will be reserved until this deposit is made, which will be credited for the first week's board in the fall, but will not be refunded in case a student decides not to enter. No room will be held for a student after the opening of the school in the fall for longer than two weeks, for which payment must be made in advance.

The school furnishes mattress, pillow, and rug. The student should bring sheets, pillow-cases, blankets, and couch cover for couch bed three feet in width. If preferred, blankets may be hired for the year at seventy-five cents per pair, and couch covers at fifty cents apiece.

All pieces of clothing will be marked at the laundry. If students use students' laundry, two dollars must be paid in September for use for one year.

All students are required to pay one dollar in September for medicines, antiseptics, first aid, and incidental care.

LUNCH ROOM

Opportunity is given to the day students and Junior high school pupils to buy lunches at cost.

TRAVELLING RATES

Day students travelling by train, may obtain season tickets at greatly reduced rates from any of the railroads entering Fitchburg.

MEETING EXPENSES

In June, 1906, an alumni loan was founded. This is increased yearly by contributions from the alumni. Subscriptions from others also will be gladly received. To students needing help, amounts not exceeding one hundred dollars annually will be loaned, such amounts to be repaid with interest after graduation.

Work is provided for students who must earn part or all of their expenses.

Men have opportunity to do janitor work and make repairs around the buildings, and women to work in the dormitory. A number of women earn all of their expenses by spending three years of forty weeks each on the two years' course, working one of the years in the dormitory.

The matron gives a course evenings, in the subject of household arts. Students taking this course, at graduation will be given in addition to a diploma, a certificate from the principal, of the work covered in this subject. For further particulars, address the clerk of the school.

Some students also earn by teaching in the city evening schools, and in day schools as substitute teachers.

The Normal school also, as far as it is able, helps students to secure positions upon graduation. On account of the war, the demand for teachers is much greater than at any time in recent years, and the salaries offered are larger.

NOTE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS, 1918

In addition to the subjects heretofore offered under "B" of the printed admission requirements, the following subjects may be offered this year, either by certification or by examination.

Community Civics,	$\frac{1}{2}$ or 1 unit.
History to 1700,	1 unit.
